

Dear FCC Chairman,

I am opposed to the consolidation of any media. There is too much consolidation already. Balanced reporting of both sides is already deteriorated tremendously in the last few years. I have stopped reading the New York times and now go to the internet for the BBC or the Gaurdian for all the news.

I am a public high school teacher and I am really troubled by the fact that seems America is the only country that is uninformed about world events. We are becoming stupider while the rest of the world grows smarter.

Please do not allow this terrible deterioration and consolidadation to continue.

Thank you for taking comments from concerned citizens.

Sincerely,

Pam Rush
